14 January 2015

"Helping needy families with clothing"

Group of youth who had the initiative to collect old (2nd hand) clothes, was able to gather a collective of about 2244 out fits from 7 districts of Kabul.

Because of the hardship of winter, most of our people face challenges in the winter, hence we created a program, by which on one hand we can support and help them with some winter cloths, and on the other hand we wanted to show people that humanity is still alive. We wanted to become a bridge of connection between poor families and the people.

A few young people who were willing to help poor and needy families, this time accomplished to gather 2nd hand old cloths from people and distribute it among the poor families. On the 18th and 19th of January these youth had a tow days camping program in 8 different parts of Kabul (Kote Sangi, Dahane Bagh, Salim Karwan, first district of khair kahana, first Macroryan, 3rd Macroryan, and 3rd street of Karte naw) by which they tried to gather help.

The campaign was organized by a group of 25 young people, and they gathered around 2244 pieces of outfits from which 869 piece is men's clothes, 773 women outfits, 443 kids outfits and about 159 piece were hats and warm traditional afghan cloths. After the gathering the cloths were transferred to be washed and get organized in bags for needy families.

The selection process of needy families were done through a survey, And from the same region where old clothes were collected, The elder people of the region prepared list of needy families, Later, through questionnaires and assessments, they managed to gather a list of poorest families, and they received cloths for every member of their families. In the first distribution we are looking for at least 1000 families, with the expectation of 6 people in a family.

Today 14th of January, we the youth, with the core aim of taking poor families hands, step forward, to prevent from a long amount of wastage of cloths and from selling them without any benefits. Our mission is to help people, we know that this is not enough but by this action we can give the mentality of a humanitarian action for others, to take the hand of poor and needy and increase this to a larger target to other provinces as well as Kabul.
